DATSUN 1300SSS

P411

Building on the lessons learned from the three previous East African Safari Rallies (resulting in four retirements and a 21st place finish in 5 starts), Nissan arrived at the 1966 Safari Rally with two Works-prepared P411 1300SSS Bluebirds. The small sedans sported dual-carbureated 1299cc J engines, each developing 80ps. Reliability proved to be the key to success, as only 9 cars out of 88 entrants finished the race. Not only did Nissan's entrants finish, they also delivered a class win for Nissan in the 1001-1300cc category - a milestone result for the factory.
